COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The damage to town roads by flood waters was very light. Minor washouts around bridges and culverts were experienced on the N. W. Bethel road, Flat Road, Grover Hill Road, Chandler Hill Road, Bird Hill and Swan Hill Roads. By Tuesday noon damages had been repaired except the Swan Hill Road.

The annual stockpiling of winter sand is now in progress. If time permits there will be an increase of 200 yards over last year, making a total stock pile of 1,200 yards. Following this project will be the erecting of snow fence. Each year there is less snow fence to erect as the fence is fast wearing out. It has been a number of years since any was purchased, and currently there is no replacement program in effect.

Since the advent of chemical brush control of roadside brush nearly ten years ago there has been a growing agitation to have controls for the use of these chemical herbicides. This type of brush control is now used extensively by public utilities, State Highway Commission, and a number of municipalities throughout the state. There is no question regarding the economic factor as it has been easily proved that this is the most economical method of brush disposal. The principal argument against it is the brownout that occurs the first year. Those that are critical of this type of brush control fail to look ahead to the future good effects.

A meeting was held in August on Oct. 22nd which was attended by representatives of utilities, State Highway Commission, contractors and municipal officials. From this meeting a committee to be formed to make up a Code of Ethics to be presented at a later meeting.

SKIWAY SURVIVES HEAVY RAINS

The heavy rains of the past week end caused considerable damage to the Sunday River ski area, but most of it is repairable. This week truckload after truckload of gravel has been used to fill in the gullied and eroded road to the area. The most extensive damage occurred at the bridge, both approaches being washed away. The bridge itself was undamaged. The slopes and trails suffered comparatively little damage, but the upper end of the line would have to be rebuilt. The parking lot needed little repair. Three hundred yards of gravel were trucked into the area on Monday alone, and by the end of the week there should be little remaining evidence of the deluge.

Week End Freshet Damages Wide Area

Two days and nights of rain-fall brought the Androscoggin River to flood stage Saturday night and Sunday morning as they started downstream or were carried in currents away from the main river.

At Bethel water began to recede about 6 o'clock Sunday morning and traffic was resumed over Alder River bridge in the late afternoon. A washout at the end of the bridge necessitated one-way use of the bridge through Monday afternoon when the cavity was filled.

Other flood losses included bridges and washouts at Gorham, N. H., and the dam at Lead Mine Bridge in Eichelburn, N. H., and at Mexico some 150 families left their homes as the water rose. At Newry Corner three of the Bear River Cabins were lifted and left out of place.

Local homes damaged included those of Winfield Howe and George McAllister at Skillington and Hazen Lowell at West Bethel, where Pleasant River overran the highway and washed the roadsides. Roads were also flooded at Mill Brook, Mayville at the end of the bridge, Vernon Street, and at Alder River where the water was deepest for the greatest distance and remained longest.

At the Davis mill most of the motors were removed and an effort was made to boom the sard as had been done before. However the water rose much faster than usual, rising more than a foot an hour, perhaps due to the loss of the Rhetburne dam so that logs and board piles were scattered. Some of these started up the Alder River valley as the water spread and some were lost in the Androscoggin. The Davis boom may run as high as 27000 logs were stranded over Route 26 near the mill and blocked the bridge nearby. Board piles and logs were retrieved Saturday night and Sunday morning as they started downstream or were carried in currents away from the main river.

At Bethel water began to recede about 6 o'clock Sunday morning and traffic was resumed over Alder River bridge in the late afternoon. A washout at the end of the bridge necessitated one-way use of the bridge through Monday afternoon when the cavity was filled.

At Bennett's Garage water to a depth of three feet. Loss was at a minimum, stock in the parts department up to that height was removed and other preparations made for water to that point. Cars were taken to upper Main Street Saturday evening. Furniture was moved up stairs in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Forbes nearby, but water did not reach the first floor.

At the high point here the water was six inches lower than the March 1957 point. For several hours Sunday most travel out of Bethel village was confined to Route 2 west via Lover's Lane and toward Portland over Paradise Hill to Route 35.

At Gilead Saturday night a car reportedly driven by Miss Claudia Underwood of Portland stalled in deep water and Miss Underwood escaped through a window. Near Alder River bridge about midnight Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Jean Miles of Gorham, N. H., were forced to leave their car after it left the flooded highway on a gullied shoulder. They succeeded in walking through rising water to Bethel Village.

GOULD ACADEMY

Gould 7—Norway 26

Dave Brown almost single-handedly defeated Gould Academy as he scored all four of Norway's touchdowns. The slow Gould backfield could not keep up with him as he scampered for long gains. The first Norway score came after a 65 yard march with Brown turning in 23 and 21 yards runs to set up the score. He crossed the goal line from the 1 yard line. Bob Tilley rushed the extra point.

On the first play after the Norway kickoff, Doug Rice passed to Pete Karpowich for a 64 yard play that put the ball on the NHS 2 yard line. Pete Swallow scored off tackle on the next play. Guy Burnham rushed the extra point making the score 7 all.

The Gould kickoff was taken by Holden and carried to the Norway 40 yard line. Norway scored in 6 plays with Dave Brown carrying 1 yard, 15 yards, and finally 26 yards to cross the goal line. Bob Tilley added the extra point by rushing.

The second period found both teams making 2 first downs, but neither team threatening as the first half ended with Norway leading 14-7.

Late in the third period Dave Brown intercepted a Gould pass on the G. A. 30 yard line and raced 25 yards to the 5 yard line. After one play of no gain, Brown went through his own right tackle for a 5 yard TD play. The point after failed.

In the final period, Norway blocked a Gould kick on the Norway 40 yard line. The winners scored in 9 plays with Heikkinen passing to Brown in the end zone for a 29 yard TD play. The extra point failed, and Norway won 26-7.

Gould passed 9 times and 2 were good for 80 yards, but 3 were intercepted. Norway passed 5 times and three were good for a total of 20 yards and a TD. The winners made 9 first downs to 6 for the home team.

Joy were in Bangor on the week end to visit Mrs. Lovejoy's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy.
